This change has been caused for the worldwide components shortage situation which has forced us to manufacture again the previously discontinued versions whose components are not affected for the marked shortage.

You are receiving some of these new references in your order so you should take special attention to the following recommendations:

- The product ETS databases for these products are different, although most of the functionality is remained, as it is exposed in the previous table.
- It is very important that the person in charge of ETS configuration knows which devices in the project have been replaced in order to use the right application program for them. You can find the technical documentation and database for these products in the links of the previous table.
